Dear Sri. Sreeman Narayanagaru,

I am writing to commend you for your successful presentation on Public speaking and Confidence as a part of the Personality Development workshop in Prism 2015, the Mid Term Intensive Program for Access Microscholarship students at Chord on 19th April, 2015.

Yet again you have left us spellbound not only with your impeccable skill in delivering a seminar captivating young minds but also the magnanimity with which you spend your time with the students. As always, the students loved the interaction and rated the workshop as one of their favourites at the end of the six day program.

The session serves as a much needed catalyst for the students to work on their oration and provided them with simple but effective techniques to build their self confidence. We truly appreciate your attention to detail and relentless determination to achieve a remarkable outcome each and every time. Your years of research, your depth of understanding of the subject, and stories from your personal experiences produced one of the most memorable days at Chord.

Needless to say, the students will continue to require your mentorship and as Chord's relationship with you grows we only hope that we see many more students benefiting from your guidance. We are truly grateful for your contribution and are proud to have you as an important member of the Chord family.

Sincerely,

Suman C. Malladi
